

The Little Football Team and Friendship

In a small town, a group of kids loved playing football. Their shoes were old, and the ball was almost flat, but they never stopped playing. What made them special was not the game—it was their friendship.

Every evening, they met in the park. They laughed, shared snacks, and always helped each other. One day, news came that a football tournament would be held. The kids got excited but also nervous.

“Other teams are stronger than us,” said Tom.

Peter, the captain, replied, “We may not be strong, but we are friends. If we stay together, we can do anything.”

The matches began. At first, they lost one game. But instead of blaming each other, they said, “Don’t worry, we are friends—we will try again.”

They practiced harder and encouraged one another. Slowly, they started to win.

In the final match, they faced the strongest team. The game was tough, but the kids never gave up. They trusted their friendship, passed the ball kindly, and played with courage. In the last minute, they scored a goal and won the trophy!

The crowd clapped loudly. Peter lifted the trophy and said,

“This is not just about football. We won because we are friends, we worked as a team, and we never gave up.”
