

His Flight

There was a young eagle named Juju. His wings were small, and he lived on the highest mountain. Other eagles could fly easily, but for Juju it was very hard.

*One day, Juju asked his mother,
“Mom, when will I be able to fly?”*

*His mother said,
“My son, you already have the strength. You just need to leave your fear.”*

*Juju wondered, “Why can’t I fly?”
He decided to try every morning.*

- On the first day, he flew a little, then fell.
 - On the next day, he flew a bit more, but still fell.
- With every fall, he learned something new.*

*One day, an old eagle saw him and said,
“Child, your problem is not in your wings, but in your mind. You think you will fall, so you fall.”*

*Juju asked,
“Then what should I do?”*

*The old eagle replied,
“Think that you are flying. Look ahead, not down. Trust yourself.”*

The next morning, Juju closed his eyes and said to himself, “I am flying.”

He spread his wings and jumped. At first, he shook, but then he became strong. He kept his eyes forward and did not look down.

Finally, Juju was flying! He went higher and higher, touching the top of the mountain. From that day, Juju became one of the best eagles in the sky.

Moral: Believe in yourself. Fear stops you, but courage and practice make you strong. Never give up on your dream.
