

The Clever Rabbit and the Thirsty Deer

One hot summer day, a little deer named Dolu was very thirsty. But the only pond in the forest was guarded by a big, lazy crocodile.

Dolu was scared. Just then, his best friend, a clever rabbit named Mimi, came up with an idea.

Mimi picked up a round coconut shell and threw it into the pond. "Splash!" It sounded like another crocodile had jumped in.

The lazy crocodile got frightened and swam away. Dolu quickly drank water, and both friends laughed happily.

Moral: True friends help each other in smart ways.